Model Homes Ready to Tour at Newest 220-home Residential Resort Community of Real de Santa Ana!

Construction has progressed well since the initial ground-breaking ceremony was held August 27th, 2007. The Santa Ana family, developers of Real de Santa Ana, are pleased to announce that the first two model homes are complete and ready to tour. Work continues at a brisk pace on the 220-home community, anticipated to be completed within the next 24 months. NewTek from La Paz has assumed the construction of the tropical resort community, utilizing the energy efficient Quad Lock Insulated Concrete Form system (ICF) in all homes. In addition, a passive solar power system is being designed into each home to dramatically offset the cost of energy for every owner, contributing to make this the first truly "green community" in all of Baja. The Santa Ana family's commitment to the greening of Mexico's newest Pueblo Mágico is strengthened by their decision to involve NewTek, a leading development company that has pioneered energy efficient construction in Baja Sur.

Three homes have already been sold, and it is expected that the balance will be sold out before the end of January 2008.

The City of Todos Santos continues to experience exceptional growth, with the addition of a new bank offering preferred client services, several retail stores including an abundantly stocked organic fruit and vegetable market, and new real estate service businesses such as Title and Escrow closing companies, all in anticipation of the new arrivals to the area.
